This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

EARLY SETTLEMENT

MEETINGS IN NEW YORK.

THE first Meeting established in the State of New York was at Oyster Bay, on Long Island. In 1656, Richard Smith, who became convinced of the principles of Friends whilst on a visit to England, arrived at Boston, with several friends from London, whence they were summarily banished, and he proceeded to Long Island, and settled at Oyster Bay.

In 1657 a vessel arrived at New York (then called New Amsterdam) from London, in which came ten Friends, amongst whom were Robert Hodgson, Mary Witherhead, and Dorothy Waugh, who were the first Friends who visited this city.

The women were arrested for preaching in the streets, imprisoned for several days, and then sent to Rhode Island.

Robert Hodgson went to Hempstead, Long Island, and held a meeting there. He also was arrested, taken back to the city, and put in prison. After suffering much from the cruelty of those having charge of him, he was released, with several Friends from New England, through the intercession of Governor Stuyvesant's sister.

The severity of the laws passed against the Quakers in Massachusetts, caused many who sympathised with them, as well as those who embraced their views, to leave the colony. Some of them settled in Rhode Island, and some on Long Island. In the latter, the Dutch Governor endeavored to guard his people against the "Quaker Heresy," by enacting laws similar to those of Massachusetts.

Through the faithful labors of those Friends who were engaged in the ministry, many of the inhabitants united with them, and Meetings were established at Oyster Bay, Gravesend, Jamaica, Hempstead, Flushing, and other places.

In 1666, John Burnyeat arrived at New York, and "spent some time there among Friends, in going through their meetings." Again, in 1671, he visited New York, and attended the Half-Year's Meeting at Oyster Bay. This appears to be the first meeting for discipline in the State.

A Monthly Meeting was held at Oyster Bay in 1672, and one at New York in 1684. Others were held on Long Island, at Flushing, Gravesend, Matinecock, &c., in 1673 and following years; but the records are in such a mutilated state, that these cannot be satisfactorily determined.

In 1676 a Quarterly Meeting was held at Flushing—the earliest on record.

These Meetings were subordinate to New England Yearly Meeting. In 1695 they were set off from that Meeting as an independent body, although the records show that a Yearly Meeting was held at Flushing in 1692, and that it continued to be held there until 1777, when it was removed to Westbury, and in 1794 to New York city.

In 1749 the Yearly Meeting directed the appointment of Representatives by Monthly to Quarterly Meetings, and by the latter to the Yearly Meeting.

The Meeting for Sufferings was established in 1758.

MEETINGS IN ENGLAND.

The first Meetings for Discipline, according to Fox's Journal, were settled in the north of England in 1653. The first General Meeting of which there is any record, was held at Balby, in Yorkshire; this Meeting issued directions and advices, addressed "To the Brethren in the North"—containing instructions as to the Gospel order of proceeding with delinquents, and advices to husbands and wives, parents and children, masters and servants, in regard to their relative duties, strict justice in trade, &c. In 1660 a Meeting was held at Skipton, "for the affairs of the church, both in this nation and beyond the seas;" which G. Fox says he had recommended the establishment of some years previously, and which, he adds, had stood several years."

In 1666 G. Fox recommended the establishment of five Monthly Meetings in London—Quarterly Meetings having been "generally settled before."

In 1672 a General Meeting of Friends from all parts of the nation, was held in London, which issued an Epistle to the Quarterly Meetings. It is supposed that this was a Meeting of Ministers. In 1672 it again met, and agreed, "for the better ordering, managing, and regulating of the public affairs of Friends relating to the truth and service thereof, that there be a General Meeting of Friends held at London once a year," composed of Representatives from the several counties in England and Wales. In the following year, this Meeting met, and concluded that the General Meeting, constituted as it then was, be discontinued, "till Friends, in God's wisdom, shall see a further occasion." The Meeting of Ministers, however, appears to have been continued annually, until 1677, when it was again agreed to convene the Meeting of Representatives the ensuing year. Accordingly in 1678 they assembled in London, issued an Epistle to the Meetings of Friends, and concluded to meet again the next year. These Meetings "have continued to assemble once a year in London, with unbroken regularity, to the present time."

DUBLIN YEARLY MEETING.

From the "Discipline of the Yearly Meeting of Friends in Ireland" we learn, that the subordinate Meetings on that island "appear to have been generally settled in the years 1668 and 1669." The "Province Meetings" (answering to the Quarterly Meetings of England) were held every six weeks, and so continued for more than a century. The first National Meeting was held in Dublin in 1670, and continued to be held half-yearly until 1797, when it was concluded to meet annually.

"The Yearly Meeting of Ireland appoints Representatives, and sends answers to the queries, to the Yearly Meeting in London; but the Minutes of the Yearly Meeting in London do not extend to Ireland, unless adopted there; but the Yearly Meeting of Ireland admits that appeals may be made against its judgment, to the Yearly Meeting in London, in matters of faith and principle."

THE YEARLY MEETING,

Is held on Second-day following the last First-day in Fourth month.

Meeting of Ministers and Elders Seventh-day preceding.

Correspondents, HENRY RUSSELL, No. 61 Dame Street, Dublin.

SAMUEL BEWLEY, No. 6 Dame St., Dublin.

In Norway several Meetings have been established, and the number is increasing. A Yearly Meeting is held at Stavanger.

In Germany a Two Months' Meeting is held at Pyrmont, and another at Minden. Also one at Congenies, in France.

In Australia some Meetings have been settled.

All of these are in correspondence with, or subordinate to the Yearly Meeting held in London.
